At the same time, you would favor me by letting me know, for what distance at the dam the river would be only 75 feet wide, if the dam were removed. In haste, Yours, c, E. S. CHESBROUGH. C. F. Durant, Esq. New York, July 13th, 1849. E. S. Chesbrough--Dear Sir: Your letter of the 10th inst., is at hand. It is clearly wrong in any formula for computing inclination in running water, to give fictitious values to perimeter. The perimeter of a river must always be the bottom and sides, neither more or less; and when the river is assumed at 100 feet wide, with...
