THE LATTER-DAY SAINTS MILLENNIAL STAR, VOL. 71: MARCH 4, 1909 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 71: March 4, 1909 NO sooner had the young man, Joseph Smith, announced to the world that he had received a revelation from God than clergy and laity united in persecuting him. All manner Of falsehoods were coined and circulated about the inoffensive youth, in order to over throw his testimony. These failing, more extreme measures were resorted to: he was stripped and beaten, tarred and feathered and time after time thrown into prison. All this, remember, was done by people who called themselves Christians, and simply because the Object of their wrath continued to testify that God had heard and answered his prayer. But as none of these things were able to bring about the desired result, it was finally decided to put him to death. He was led like a lamb to the slaughter. He and his beloved brother were murdered in cold blood by a mob, led by a minister of one of the sectarian churches. These were some Of the methods which were employed by Christians to get Latter-day Saints to renounce their faith and to put an end to Mormonism. A similar fate hefel many of the prophet s followers, while hundreds were driven from their homes, their crops destroyed and their property confiscated. They sought refuge in the land of the heathen, among savage Indians, and there they received much better treatment than they had received while dwelling among so called Christians. Heaven smiled upon them again; the blessings Of the Lord attended their labors, and in a little while they were once more comfortably settled in their own homes enjoying the good things of the earth...
