Excerpt: .investment, losses, and most important of all, an adequate salary for himself. and for these items add the proper per cent to the first cost of every job he sells, is a long, long way from knowing what that job cost him. The solution of these problems lies in education and co-operation, and in no better way can they be worked out than through an association like ours. The work of the past year has not been without results. The passage of the mausoleum law by the legislature at its last session was accomplished solely through the efforts of our association, and it may be pleasing for you to know that the officer of the National, to whom a copy of this bill was sent. says of it, It is the best bill passed by any of the states. Too much credit cannot be given our efficient secretary, Mr. Beij, for the labor and thought he gave for the success of this project. It is to be regretted that our efforts towards the passage of a lien law were unsuccessful, Some mistakes were made in its presentation, which can he remedied another time, and I trust a coinmittee will be appointed at this meeting who will take the matter to the next legislature, and if it secures the united support of our members that it deserves, we will be successful, and a lien law will he placed upon the statute books of Connecticut that...
