

Neurology of the Elderly

By Godwin-Austen, Richard / Bendall, John

Book Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Springer, Berlin | This is a personal but authoritative guide written by two experienced clinicians for those practitioners and hospital specialists faced occasionally with a neurological problem in an elderly patient. The authors give practical guidance in the diagnosis and management of common neurological problems in the elderly: problems such as "confusion" and dementia, gait disturbance, visual problems, incontinence, disturbance of consciousness and loss of use in the hands. The problem-oriented, clinical approach is tailored to the needs of specialists looking for supplements to the comprehensive texts that describe classical history-taking and examination methods but, in many cases, do not help solve the problems encountered in everyday practice. Kein umfassendes Lehrbuch - wohl aber ein praktischer Führer bei der Diagnose und Behandlung allgemeiner Probleme der Klinischen Neurologie des alternden Menschen. Traditional methods in the clinical practice of neurology have dominated clinical teaching in this specialty for about 100 years. Essentially these methods involve meticulous attention to detail and the recording of clinical facts. Thus the clinical history must be recorded chronologically, preferably in the patient's own words, and of the nervous system followed by a carefully structured examination set out in such a way as...

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

[7.38 MB]

Reviews

This sort of publication is everything and made me seeking forward and much more. Better than never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. I am easily could possibly get a delight of reading through a created pdf.

-- Quinton Balistreri

A really amazing ebook with lucid and perfect answers. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better than never. You are going to like the way the blogger write this pdf.

-- Prof. Bertram Ullrich Jr.