From prose editor Stephen Krzyzanowski: I would like to thank the writers who have seen and beautifully and dutifully recreated vivid scenes from a myriad of landscapes--the beach, a river, an altar to the dead. Just as a theme of water flows through this issue, the liminality of experience has washed behind the eyes of our authors, flowed through their beings, and poured forth to the page.

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
