Excerpt from Visit to Madras: Being a Sketch of the Local and Characteristic Peculiarities of That Presidency in the Year 1811 It was now a lvrng surf - a mass of people, not or sitters, that crowded around and threatened to overwhelm lts. Master, me good dubash. Have one good boy Me very honest man. Do every ting for master. Buy very cheap, so. Fine palanquin-plenty of bearer for Have Cooley boy, sir - take trunk, parcel, any trng, - and a bun dred similar exclamations issued from as many voices. The luggage was instantly seized by contending coolies (porters); I had no small difficulty in extricating my person from the same fate; and was almost ill-natured enough to envy our companion, B the possession of a horse-whip, which he exercised, with vast advantage to himself. In the confusion created by this rabble, indeed, it is not uncommon for the coolies, except well watched, to trot off with their burdens to the thieving bazaar and d: sposmg of it for their own benefit; but being aware of the trick, no Duenna...
