Excerpt from The Life of William Cobbett, Author of the Political Register I could write a good plain hand, but I could not read the pot-hooks and hangers of Mr, Holland He was a month in learning me to copy1 without; almost continual assistance, and eyen then I was of but little use to him; for, besides that I wrote a snail s pace, my want of knowledge in orthography gave him infinite trouble: so that for the first two months I was a dead weight upon his hands. Time, however, rendered me useful; and Mr. Holland was pleased to tell me, that he was very well satisfied with nie, just at the very mo ment when I began to grow extremely dissatisfied with him.
