Excerpt from The Omegan of Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity, Vol. 4: May, 1927 The first duty and at the same time the highest privilege of a republic is the education of its citizenry. Through that means and that alone can the Republic go on. John Adams in his Inaugural spoke of the fostering of education as a governmental duty as the only means of preserving our Constitution from its natural enemies and Jefferson in 1820 wrote the following interesting comment: I know of no safe depository of the ultimate powers of the society but the people themselves. And if we think them not enlightened enough to exercise their control with a wholesome discretion. The remedy is not to take it from them. But to inform their discretion by education.
