

Responding to Self-Harm in Children and Adolescents: A Professional's Guide to Identification, Intervention and Support (Paperback)

By Steven Walker

JESSICA KINGSLEY PUBLISHERS, United Kingdom, 2012. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Self-harm is a growing problem in children and young people but it can be hard to understand and difficult to recognise. Responding to Self-Harm in Children and Adolescents will help professionals to understand self-harm and respond appropriately. It covers what the risk factors are, including social exclusion, and who is most likely to self-harm. Information on what self-harm is and what causes it, including mental health issues, problems in childhood and trauma, is included. The book also covers how to recognise self-harm and how to immediately respond in an emergency, and different intervention methods are explored. Finally, the author discusses means of support, including how parents and friends can help. This accessible guide provides clear and easily digestible information and practical advice to any professional working with a child or young person who is suspected of, or actually self-harming.

READ ONLINE
[8.33 MB]

Reviews

The publication is easy in read through safer to comprehend. It is actually loaded with wisdom and knowledge Its been printed in an extremely simple way and is particularly simply right after i finished reading through this pdf where actually modified me, affect the way i believe.

-- Ms. Clementina Cole V

This is the very best publication i have got read until now. It is definitely simplified but shocks within the fifty percent of the pdf. You may like how the article writer create this pdf.

-- Rosario Durgan