Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Peace and Retrenchment: The Prime Minister s Call to the Nation Nay, more than that, that things should be even better than before the War, and that immediately on the click of the switch of Peace everything would leap back again to the normal, and be exactly as it was in 1914. No man who imagines that can have realised for a moment the magnitude of the disturbing events of the last five years, and certainly he can never have read the lessons of history. If a house is shaken or demolished you may build a better structure, but the new structure does not pop out of the ground like Aladdin s Palace on the rubbing of Aladdin s lamp; you have to build it. The direct cost of the War to the world was 40,000,000,000, spent, not in reproductive enterprise, but spent largely in destruction. If 40,000,000 of able-bodied young men were to take a holiday for four years, and were withdrawn from the task of reproduction and wealth-creation in Europe and America, and for that period, they had had 1,000 placed at their disposal to expend, it would give some sort of a notion of what war on this gigantic scale means. You would not expect at the end of the four years everything to be the same. You would not expect to have the habit of industry come back immediately, and you would certainly expect that the difficulties which had arisen would take some time to get over. What are the difficulties that arose immediately on the cessation of hostilities? Let me summarise them. After-War Difficulties. First of all, you have the...
