Excerpt: .University, and a few other students who are collecting material in California, partly for the Fniversity of California, partly for the American Museum of Natural History. Up to the present time the Bureau has taken up, in connection with this work, morphological studies of the languages of the northwest coast and of the Siouan, Shoshonean, and Algonqnian stocks, three of the largest on our continent. The work has so far advanced that it is proposed to prepare at once a handbook of the American languages as a preliminary publication. The Bureau has had under way for some years the transcription of the Diccionario de Motul, a manuscript Maya-Spanish dictionary, borrowed from the library of the University of Pennsylvania. The copy is intended for the use of Senor Andomaro Molina, of Merida, Yucatan, who is engaged in compiling a Maya-English dictionary to be published by...
