Improvement Era, Vol. 18: November, 1914 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Unknown Author

Forgotten Books, United States, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Improvement Era, Vol. 18: November, 1914 When a great truth enters one's soul for the first time, the man erroneously calls it a new truth, it may give rise to mental disturbance and possible disruption because it is plainly opposed to the man's earlier conceptions. He has to break down his stubborn traditions, his selfish predilections; with pestle and mortar he must grind them to powder, that thus triturated they may the more readily be dissolved or fused. True faith, genuine hope, trust in God, are solvents of rare efficacy; and prayer is the most potent of all. These will in time bring into solution even the most resisting and rebellious thoughts; or, in the furnace, they will develop such heat of conviction as to reduce to quiescent fusion even the most refractory of false beliefs. In the beaker or the crucible shall form new thoughts, freshly crystallized, lustrous, symmetrical, true.
