Crops and Markets, Vol. 2: July 26, 1924 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By United States Department of Agriculture

FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Crops and Markets, Vol. 2: July 26, 1924 Heavy Butcher Hogs At Chicago passed all previous price records for the year to date during the week ended July 19. Prices, however, were higher on all grades, despite the largest daily July run on record, which was also the second largest number ever received at that market. Fat sheep and lambs worked unevenly higher, due to a combination of reduced loadings and expanded shipping demand. Cattle runs for the week at 11 markets were the largest of the year, and all killing classes ruled sharply and unevenly lower. Lethargy continued to mark the demand for thin kinds suitable for further finishing, despite a meager supply. Irregular price trends marked trading in all classes of fresh meats at eastern markets, while the general tendency at Chicago was toward lower prices. Retail trade was seasonably dull. Reviews

A top quality ebook and the typeface used was interesting to learn. This can be for all who state that there had not been a well worth reading through. I am just pleased to tell you that this is basically the very best ebook i actually have go through in my individual life and can be he finest book for at any time.

-- Mr. Carol Bergnaum IV

This publication will not be straightforward to begin on studying but quite fun to see. It really is basic but shocks in the fifty percent of the ebook. I realized this ebook from my dad and i advised this pdf to learn.
