Evidencing the Impact of Informal Learning on Active Citizenship in European Projects

By Tim Scholze

Cuvillier Verlag Nov 2009, 2009. Taschenbuch. Condition: Neu. Neuware - This survey describes and analyses an innovative approach to evaluate the impact of informal learning in European countries on different, mainly citizenship related, competence. It was developed in the framework of the project ACT funded by the European Commission from 2005 to 2008. A comprehensive evaluation system was developed especially taking into account the demands of grass-root organisations that deliver citizenship competence to non-mainstreaming societal target groups. The developed approach is treading new trails since it rather relates to the required citizenship competence of the beneficiaries in their living context than to politically determined learning objectives concerning Active Citizenship. On the basis of a comprehensive European stock-taking with regard to European citizenship education, an explanatory model was developed to visualise Active Citizenship competence (the so called ACT-Cube). This model has been the foundation of a complete evaluation procedure that is on the one hand standardised, and on the other hand enables grass-root projects to establish an individualised reference system for assessing and evidencing1 relevant competence of their beneficiaries in a process-orientated way. The function of the system allows users to evidence the impact of their work according to a standardised...
