His roommate a porn-star, his co-workers can't decide if they're working a job or doing a stint at summer camp, and no one knows a slang term for nipple that's about as hard as life gets for Driftwood Dan. He works the western tourist trade, and if times get tough, he packs up his problems in a duffel bag and heads on down the road to the next two-bit job. But when a sexy tourist-lady turns his head, is Driftwood ready to give up the raunchy, carefree life he loves, just for the sake of getting laid regular? Ray Sikorski completes this irreverent volume with a baker's dozen of short stories. Widow wannabes, ping pong prodigies, and a woman who can raise herself five feet above the ground without any help from anything they're just a few of the characters who reside in these quick, feint-and-jab vignettes of life, love, and laundromats.
