Grin Publishing. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Dimensions: 10.0in. x 7.0in. x 0.0in. Scientific Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Law - Comparative Legal Systems, Comparative Law, language: English, abstract: Within the European Union, the Court of Justice (hereinafter the Court) developed through its case law the doctrine of supremacy. The outcome has been the creation of a new legal order which now exists independently of the separate legal orders of the Member States. Since both the legal order of the European Union and the one of the Federal Republic of Germany assume the role of higher law, as such there is a conflict between the two. The claim of the current paper is that such a conflict creates a necessary balance and that by its existence it does not erode the acquis communautaire of the European Union. Moreover, the present paper concurs with the German approach as to rejecting the supremacy of EU law over German national law. In order to support the above-mentioned claim, the aim of the paper will consist of the following steps. First, the conflict between the two legal orders will be shortly illustrated. Second, the reasoning of the Supreme Constitutional German Court or the Bundesverfassungsgericht (hereinafter the Bundesverfassungsgericht) will be presented with the help of landmark national cases and also the principles of militant democracy and eternity clause. Third, an analysis of whether the conflict is necessary and whether it creates a balance within a pluralist dimension will be offered. The reason why this topic has been chosen is to show how two legal orders coexist while having created a conflict through the imposition of certain limits. The limits were imposed through the national case law of the Bundesverfassungsgericht. The methodology employed by the paper will be the doctrinal...
