Excerpt from Pentecostal Fear: A Sermon, Preached in the Parish Church, Cuddesdon, on Tuesday, May 24, 1864, on the Anniversary of the Theological College I remember one departed from among us, eminent for many good gifts, but (as I sadly believe) greatly misled and misleading on this and kindred points, what surprise he expressed at finding that the miracle of Pentecost was supposed to be really though in visibly continued in the Church, whereas he had been used to regard it as a manifestation vouchsafed for a time only, by way of outward credentials. The theories which are even now disturbing us remind me perpetually of this sentiment, whereof they appear to be so many legitimate developments. With a View to this, the subject of the Sermon was selected. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
