The holidays are an exciting time for children in the classroom and the home. The rich history and fun celebrations of holidays make students excited both for parties and learning. The Writing Prompts for Holidays series is a collection of imaginative situations and questions related to 20 major holidays, including Christmas, Thanksgiving, Halloween, and more. Third Grade Writing Prompts for Holidays is a workbook that will help third grade students to start developing their creative writing skills. Examples from the book: 4. While most people dont get a full-time job until after high school or college, many teenagers get part-time jobs to learn more about the working world. What do you think your first part-time job will be, what might you learn from it, and why? 48. What would your Thanksgiving dinner be like if all of your family members had to dress up in costumes? What costumes would your family members choose and why? 51. In some families, Christmas gifts are hidden throughout the house like a game of Hide and Seek. Imagine if your family tried this tradition out. Where would the good hiding places be and in which rooms would you find certain gifts? 121. The worlds shortest St. Patricks Day parade is held in Hot Springs, Arkansas, and is only 98 feet long. What is something youve experienced that was much shorter than the norm? In what way was it short and how did you feel about it? Table of Contents: 1. Labor Day 2. Columbus Day 3. Halloween 4. Veterans Day 5. Thanksgiving 6. Christmas 7. New Years Eve 8.
