Excerpt: .the time the will was made, and died there December 22, 1913. The will was drafted by the testat-Jr himself, an experienced lawyer. 1. In the interpretation of Wills the cardinal rule, to which all other rules must bend, is that the intention of the testator must prevail, provided it is consistent with the rules of law; and that intention is to be found in an examination of all parts of the will tin the light of the existing circumstances. 2. The crucial test to determine if a trust is created by precatory words is whether the testator actually intended by his words to control the action of his legatee by imposing an imperative duty upon hlim in respect to the property, or whether he intended his words to be merely advisory, leav1ng it to the discretion of the legatee whether that advice should be followed or not. 3. Whenever a testamentary disposition clearly indicates an intention to give the donee an absolute and unrestricted ownership of the property, any subsequent provision tending to impose restraint upon the alienation of such an estate is void. 4. Precatory words in a will should not be accorded such force and meanzng as will deprive the donee of his beneficial use and full right of disposal of a gift otherwise absolute, unless the court can gather from the rest of the will and the attending circumstances, an intention of the testator which is reconcilable with the idea...
