Excerpt from The Improvement of Statistics of Cause of Death Through Supplementary Inquiries to Physicians: Reprinted From the Quarterly Publications of the American Statistical Association, June, 1916 States Census Bureau. Wherever the statement of cause is considered unsatisfactory for classification, or where, from the statement presented to the Company by the claimant or from other available sources, there is an indication that a serious condition not mentioned on the certificates has contributed to the death, or where additional information is required before a satisfactory assignment can be made, a letter of inquiry, asking for the facts, is sent to the physician. Clerical labor is minimized wherever possible through the use of form letters. A codified series of questions is employed, and the examiners indicate to the typists the question which is to be inserted in the form. The following is a copy of one of our series of letters sent to physicians: new york city Dear Doctor: This Company is analyzing its mortality experience for the year 191 and in order that we may be able to classify accurately the death...
