Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.1in. Excerpt from The European and Asiatic Races: Observations on the Paper Read by John Crawford, Esq., F. R. S., Before the Ethnological Society, on February 14th, 1866; Read Before the Ethnological Society, March 27th, 1866 This evidence was given in 1853 and 1858; but since that time the progress in education and several other matters has been so marked, though not very great, that even this evidence has become obsolete in some particulars. No careful observer will now make the statement that the Hindu is not capable of keeping up his studies after leaving college, much less that he falls back at eighteen and never regains his lost ground. The very fact that the Hindus were even capable of producing a vast and varied literature in all departments of human knowledge, shows beyond all doubt that the capacity to study all life is not wanting. The fertile soil is there, but neglected. Let it have its proper cultivation, and it will again show the same fruit.
