Excerpt from Experiments on Animals, Are They Justified?: The Case for Vivisection, the Case Against Vivisection; A Controversy (Published in the Columns of the Standard) Between the Medical Leaders of the Vivisection and Anti-Vivisection Crusades ON July 20, 1909, there appeared in The Standard a lengthy article by Mr. Stephen Paget, F. R. C. S., which has since been published as one of the leaflets of the Research Defence Society. Its general purport will be gathered from the correspondence which follows. It was accompanied by a leading article which practically recapitulated and corroborated its statements one by one, and in which the public were urged to read and consider Mr. Paget's paper. The writer went on. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at This book is a reproduction of an important historical work.
