Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Groton Averys: Christopher and James, the Founders of the Family Christopher Avery, a weaver, was born in England about 1590. There are several traditions with regard to his immigration to the new world. One is that he came from Salisbury, Wilts County, England, in the Arbella, with John Winthrop, and landed at Salem, Mass., June 12, 1630. Another tradition is that he came over with the younger Winthrop, in 1631, and that, on the voyage, the subsequent governor of Connecticut formed a strong and life-long attachment for Christopher Avery s young son, James. The shipping list of the Arbella is not known to be in existence, although it may form a part of the voluminous, unpublished and unexamined archives of the British admiralty office relating to that period. If it is ever found it will probably determine this doubt. The family is very old in Cornwall, and the Christopher Avery branch may have originated there. In 1310, a Thomas Avery was found at Bodmin, Cornwall: in 1543, John, Thomas, David, and Richard Avery were assessed in Cornwall: in 1605, Thomas Avery was mayor of Tintagel; and in 1679, mention was made of Christopher Avery s meadow at Tintagel. The late Mr. John D. Baldwin, of Worcester, Mass., was of the opinion that Christopher Avery s ancestors came originally from Cornwall. A Christopher Avery buried his wife, Mary, at Salisbury, in 1591, and they may possibly have been the parents of our Christopher.
