

The Educational Theories of Herbart and Froebel (Classic Reprint)

By John Angus Macvannel

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Educational Theories of Herbart and Froebel The rough notes and suggestions furnished in this Syllabus are an attempt (a) to outline the evolution of educational ideas from Rousseau to Froebel as an outcome of the more general movement in social theory, (6) to relate the educational theories of Herbart and Froebel to the wider intellectual movements of Romanticism, Realism, and Idealism. It is assumed that no theory, ethical, philosophical, educational, can be completely understood when isolated from the human conditions which produced it. The evolution of educational opinion is part of the entire intellectual and social movement of a period. The outline aims to trace in a genetic way the emergence of certain ideas within a particular period and the transformation of educational problems by these ideas. It does not, however, underrate the value of the study of the personalities of the men through whom these ideas found their first adequate expression. A syllabus is at best a provisional sketch, - part seen, imagined part. Brevity without injury to clearness is in a very...
