"Education is universally acknowledged as one of the key inputs contributing to the process of national development. For development of human resources, investment in education is essential in order to empower people with appropriate knowledge, skills, values and attitudes, to enhance their quality of life, to improve their productivity and to enable them to participate more fully in the development process. In the present context of global economy, access to basic education is considered as a human right. Since the World Conference on Education for All, held at Jomtien, Thailand in 1990, there has been growing awareness among international agencies and national governments that the centralised administrative structures in education in developing countries lack adequate human, financial and material resources to provide education for all. Since the Jomtien conference, there has been growing emphasis on decentralisation of educational administration and management to provide...
