Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Scholemaster: Written Between 1563-8, Posthumously Published, First It is a part of the Divine Providence of the World, that the Strong shall influence the Weak: not only on the Battlefield and iu Diplomacy; but also in Learning and Literature. Thus the Nations of Modern Europe have been influenced by the Writings of Greece and Rome: and they have influenced each other, in turn, with their own Power and Beauty in Thought and Expression. Thus, Modern English has been subject in succession to the influence of Classical Literature in the time of Ascham; to the literary fascination of Italy, in the age of Elizabeth; of France, at the Restoration; and of Germany, in more recent times: without at all ceasing in the natural progression of its innate capabilities, for all the fashions and forms which, for a time, it pleased to adopt In like manner, English Literature has allured the German, the Frenchman, and the Italian: thereby restoring benefit for benefit in the commerce and free trade of the Mind.2. The stream of Ancient literature and Cultivation, which, after the fall of Constantinople, advanced from East to West; at length reached our shores in the reign of Henry the Eight. In the planting and engraftment of Classical learning in England at that time, St Johns College, Cambridge, founded on 9 th April xmi had a most distinguished share. Its Master and Fellows whether they adhered to the older or the newer faith strove alike most earnestly to promote the new learning. Thomas Nashe, writing twenty years after Aschatn sdeath somewhat severely on our triutall translators, in his address To the Gentle mien Students, prefixed toR. Greenes...
