After 20-Apr-1994: A modified set of procedures for optical property measurements described by Daughtry et al. ( 1989 ) was used. The sample mount was attached to a mask with an aperture the size of the illumination light source beam. This assembly was placed on the light table underneath an image analysis systems camera. The image was captured and the gap area measured by counting the number of whitish pixels. The area was ratioed to the total area of the incident beam ( i. e. , the area of the mask ) to give the gap fraction ( area of nonintercepted illumination beam ). The sample was then placed in the...
