Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.One of the commonest prostate problems among men especially during older age is prostate cancer. And the main problem when this is not detected immediately or early enough, is that it can metastasize to vital organs of the body, which can result in increasing the already be very hard to treat disease. That is why as a male especially when you reach the age of 50 or as early as 45, you must submit yourself for a check-up so that you will be able to learn whether you have this kind of cancer or not. The truth remains that; early signs of prostate cancer may not be noticed immediately. You may just ignore and think of it as an ordinary problem of your urinary system that when you drink over the counter medications, it will just go away. However, you must think of the possibility that you can have cancer of the prostate. Although, a small percentage of men experience early signs of this type of cancer, you might as well learn about it because you might be experiencing it at this moment. You can have certain troubles when urinating and difficulty when starting to urinate. When this happens, consult a doctor immediately. Screening tests will be done when you submit yourself to a doctor. You will be asked a lot of questions, and a blood sample will be taken for you to check the levels of an antigen specific for the prostate gland. A digital rectal exam will also be done. You will equally be asked whether you noticed blood in your urine or semen. However, if you are not able to submit for earlier diagnosis and...
