Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Discourse Occasioned by the Burning of the Theatre in the City of Richmond, Virginia, on the Twenty-Sixth of December, 1811: By Which Awful Calamity a Large Number of Valuable Lives Were Lost, Delivered in the Third Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, on the Eighth Day of January, 1812, at the Request of the Virginia Students Attached to the Medical Class, in the University of P The spectacle of suffering humanity, however great a stranger the object of distress may be, will always excite our sensibility, unless the feelings be blunted by vicious indulgence, restrained by prejudice, or extinguished by the long prevalence of malignant passions. Simply considered, it is not of a moral nature; it is, however, friendly to virtue, and intimately mingles itself with the most benevolent and pious affections of the human heart: and the want of it always argues a high degree of moral depravity. Refined and cultivated, as it may be by education, it has a great share in forming the character which is termed amiable and interesting. But like other original...
