Presently, scientists, engineers, educators, citizens and decision-makers have unprecedented amounts and types of data available to them that are generated from many sources, including scientific instruments, medical devices, telescopes, microscopes, satellites; digitally-authored media, text, images, audio, and emails; streaming data from weblogs, videos, financial commercial transactions. Now we are facing challenges in the management of data and knowledge; and data-enabled discovery processes. Therefore, attention is given on the computational, mathematical, and statistical methods for data analysis; and visualization techniques for making sense of the data. Data Science is an applied activity and data scientists serve the needs and solve the problems of data users. Data Science is a flourishing industry. Countries and companies around the world are continuously experiencing a rush in the amount of data collected. They are determined to hire experts who can work on their data and improve their lives. Such experts are known by many names and most popular is Data Scientist . Thomas Davenport and D.J. Patil brought the data scientist into the national spotlight terming Data Scientist: The Sexiest Job of the 21st Century . Data Scientists are in high demand. There is simply not enough talent to fill the jobs. The demand for Analytics skill is going up steadily globally but there is a huge deficit on the supply side. In spite of Big Data Analytics being a Hot job, there are still a large number of unfilled jobs across the globe due to shortage of required skill. A new study of LinkedIn profiles by RJMetrics has found that the number of data scientists has doubled over the last 4 years . This reflects the increasing demand for sophisticated data analysis skills, combining computer...
