Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The School of Mechanic Arts: July, 1897 Primarily, the School of Mechanic Arts is intended for those young men Who expect to enter some one of the mechanical trades, and Who desire a scientific basis for this later work, although it is hoped that in many cases the stimulus given by the school Will be such that a collegiate course in one of the engineering groups Will be pursued. Nowhere is there greater difficulty in learning a trade than in the West, Where few manufacturing industries are as yet developed. Even if this were not true, the school would offer the surest means of Attaining future success. For it will give a knowledge of those things Which are intimately connected With mechanical work, but Which cannot be learned in the shop. The school is in no sense a Trade school, although the principles of some of the more important mechanical trades are taught. The student obtains a better conception of the relative importance of the different mechanical Operations, and he is enabled to determine what particular branch of mechanical work he can most successfully pursue.
