Napoleon Publishing, 2002. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. Winner of the Frances Russell Award from the International Board on Books for Young People for outstanding research in children's literature! "This easy to read biography will be read with interest by those involved in children's libraries and librarianship.the author's enthusiasm for the life and achievements of Miss Smith is very apparent in her writing and research." - Canadian Materials ".recorded in a concise, engaging manner.At the heart of Waxman's story is Smith's passionate, innovative approach to sharing books with children.Again and again, Smith's sense of urgency, her respect for her young clientele, rings through.The book's many anecdotes, quotations, photos and drawings convey this vividly, demonstrating the transforming power and sheer fun children gain from exposure to books of all kinds.this is a spirited, fascinating tribute." - The Toronto Star Have you ever read a book that you couldn't put down? Has that book taken you to other countries, to other centuries? Have you found yourself brimming with excitement, exclaiming to all who will listen, "Read this book!" This biography is the story of a child who took her love of children's' books and found a way to share it with the world as she grew up. Her voice would be the first to carry the message of children's' right to read across the world. It is not too much to say that she started a revolution for children's books in her career as the first children's librarian in the British Commonwealth.
