 Florida Shores I The white sails fill before an urgent wind That blows from off some shore of verdant hue; God s sunlight falls where sight and vision end And makes the dream of other days come true. Yon stunted pines bend low against the sky, Dwarfed for an hundred years by scanty soil, Like eager souls, without the wings to fly - Held down by want and unrewarding toil. A day with wind keen set from Southern shores, A day with breakers tossed from East to West - A day of sea-life, which the heart adores - A day the soul of freedom loveth best. II Twilight off shore - near-by the mist and maze That come with night, and nightly moan of sea - Twilight on ocean s sad, mysterious ways That leaves its softened glow and gloom with me. Tall palm trees frescoed on a sky of blue - White gypsie clouds on vagrant errands bent: - My boat, the river, dreaming eyes and you, Behold...
