VI THE WONDERFUL GBABENHEIM Im disgusted with the world this morning. Its a nice old mud ball, but it needs to be kerosened. It has become badly infested with men. Im one of them, not much worse than the rest--pretty ordinarily decent, in fact--and what did I do this morning In rushes Mangler, whom I havent seen for five years. He was one of my most loyal followers in college--voted for me for president of the freshman class, got nine hash club votes for me for treasurer of the athletic association, and wanted to send me to Congress. He admired me, Mangler did. He was always following me around, wanting to do things for me. And yesterday he rushed in with his hands out and I grabbed them and yelled, Suffering cats, who left the barn door open and Hello, you goggleeyed pirate, and other pet names, and was as glad to see him as if he had had cholera; because there was a directors meeting in seven minutes and I had a luncheon date with a big customer and four days work to pack into the afternoon, and my wife had at last made me promise by the holes in Ole Skjarsens sweater--my most sacred oath--to harness up that evening and go over to the Van Bumptiouses for dinner. Why couldnt he have come any other day in the year But he couldnt, and he was going out that evening and was never...
