Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Merrimack Valley: Illusrdated The well-directed mortal who seeks in central or Northern New England a summering locality wherein sanitary, restful and recreative qualities of the highest type can be assured, is hardly in danger, be he native stranger, of making a mistake in the selection of a situation into the make-up of which all these elements enter; for such abound on every hand in all sections of this favored region. Whether one seeks vacation pleasures along the lines where ocean waters fall upon grandest shores, and these unite to present magnificent scenic attractions; sojourns among lofty and rugged mountains, as wild and primitive in all their features as when fresh from the hand of the Creator; communes with Nature in the lake and forest regions remote from the usual haunts of men; or indulges in protracted dolce far niente in rural and farming sections, or amid the charming river and inland scenes such as are found in perfection in this morsel of the continent, - all the same the results of fullest gratification and entire satisfaction are sure to ensue, and his search to end in complete realization of his desires. With great numbers of people, however, the highest ideal of summer or vacation life is that passed among the quiet, restful, kindly influences of country scenes and neighborhoods, where Nature is found in her most beneficent moods and manifestations, charming in all her situations and attractive to every person who feels in the least a desire to return to her allurements and rewards. For the tourist and wonder-seeker, the lover of the sensational - so to speak - in natural provision, lofty mountain...
