Anatomy is a branch of medicine, of science where dissection of tissues is a daily life, The author offers us more than we bargained for, in this three in one exposition of love and its intricacies, She uses direct speech to convey her message of the joys of love, the perils, the cheating between couples and the heart breaks.Its a journey of sorts; from the dark continent of Africa to the bright lights of America, the author navigates us through a mesh of surprises and wonderful human interactions. Its indeed an anatomy, a dissection of life, as seen from the authors characters as they struggle to make sense of the blood vessels and nerves traversing this complicated mass of a body we call love.
