SATELLITE TECHNOLOGIES IN GEOINFORMATION SCIENCE

Springer Basel AG Aug 2014, 2014. Taschenbuch. Condition: Neu. Neuware - This topical volume covers a wide range of multidisciplinary topics, the common theme of which is processing of remotely-acquired spatial data using geo information methods. Satellite or airborne technologies and geo information itself provide powerful tools for solving numerous scientific problems in the geosciences, as they utilize geophysical principles and offer geophysicists new data and methods. Accordingly, this topical volume focuses on six key topics, presenting research applications of...
