(Soph, i: 15.) The bare thought of these things has sometimes sufficed to alarm the most reckless sinners; and if they tremble to think upon this dreadful day, how much more shall they be terrified when they experience in person all the agony of its actual horrors. They shall wither away for fear. 2. Shall not the good and pious also fear at the Last Day? Ah! no, my dear Christians, although their pure souls shall be filled with awe, the terrible omens of the approaching judgment will be for the just not signs of terror, but rather, of consolation. Then, shall they recall those comforting words of our Saviour: But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads, because your redemption is at hand; and their conscience shall bear joyful testimony of the happiness in store for them. They know that they have a Judge who can neither be bribed by infernal accusers, nor deceived by false witnesses. When God is the Judge, says St. Augustine, no other witness is needed but thine own conscience. Where this Judge and this Witness are concerned there is nothing to be feared but the record of a man s own actions. The very severity of the judgment,...
