Taiwan After China: Our Stories Since 1948 (Paperback)

By Ching Ching

Dog Ear Publishing, United States, 2012. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . In 1949, the R.O.C. lost mainland China in the battle with the Communist. My parents followed the president Chung-Kai-Shek who was also the leader of Kuo Ming party, they temporarily retreated to Taiwan. The president Chiang Kai-Shek resettled ROC s government in Taiwan. The relationship between Taiwan and China was intense at that time. What was our life? What was the political, military, economic and educational situation back then? No one really knew how long we would stay in Taiwan, but life needs to be continued. My father was raised in a rich family, he kept dreaming about returning to China at any time; so he wouldn t need to work hard in Taiwan. Our family had 10 kids that needed to be fed. My father s income was the main source to support us and that was not enough. Our family was living in very poor and tough situations. My mother supported us in all ways and did not abandon us. She had the disadvantage of a lack of education, because of that she encouraged every one of us to...
