Excerpt: . friends, thus drawn out by me in each other s presence, detect their own problems in each other s minds. I never supposed that you, Tom, were troubling your head over such matters. No? Well, I can say the same of you. Modern Christianity has come very widely to its normal fruition in earthly prosperity. Godliness has the promise of the life that now is. The tendency is surely to elevate the poor-born lad of forty years ago, so that he is the merchant prince and conspicuous deacon of to-day. Not now to discuss whether genuine piety has kept pace with social and material advancement, it is indisputable that the leading men in most of the older American communities joined the church years ago, and to-day are the pillars of the church. Indeed, nearly all the wealth of many smaller cities, and undoubtedly...
