Graham Scroggie (1877-1958) : The Unusual Keswick Speaker God never repeats Himself in human experience, and it is refreshing to mark these saints as they ventured their all upon God and left us individual histories which enrich the spiritual kingdom by the delightful variety we discover in all Gods other creations. We do not submit these sketches that they should be imitated in detail as to their search for God, or as to their evidence of that attainment. We pray rather that their faith and courage, in proving and knowing God, might encourage us to realize there is no limit, except in ourselves, to what we might discover of His kingdom while here in time. Our situation today is much like that which existed in the time of the Judges: Another generation grew up after them, who did not know the Lord or the work that he had done for Israel. (Judges 2: 10). Such ignorance in those days issued in Gods people doing evil and turning to false religion. This book describes giants of faith---people who did exploits because they knew...
