Will Privacy Law in the 21st Century be American, European or International?

By Philipp E. Fischer

GRIN Verlag GmbH Feb 2012, 2012. Taschenbuch. Condition: Neu. Neuware - Intermediate Examination Paper from the year 2010 in the subject Law - Comparative Legal Systems, Comparative Law, grade: befriedigend, Queen Mary University of London (Centre for Commercial Law Studies (CCLS)), course: International Studies in Intellectual Property Law (LL.M.) - End of first term dissertation, language: English, comment: Any society that would give up a little liberty to gain a little security will deserve neither and lose both.' Benjamin Franklin , abstract: Rapidly developing technologies are providing new and very powerful means to sort, combine and analyse data. This data exists in a networked environment, thus personal information can be collected and processed on any computer on the Net and is, at least in theory, accessible by every computer on the Net. The development of the Internet has made it possible to transfer this data 'around the globe at the click of a mouse'. Fresh business models such as 'cloud computing', the newest 'driver to illustrate the speed and breadth of the environment', allow this data to be processed across national borders on a routine basis. Individuals and companies are 'increasingly immersed in social networking, search technologies, online commerce and...
