Remarks of Richard H. Dana, Jr., Esq.: At a Dinner Given to the Officers of the Kearsarge, in Response to a Toast in Honor of the Judiciary (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Richard Henry Dana

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Remarks of Richard H. Dana, Jr., Esq.: At a Dinner Given to the Officers of the Kearsarge, in Response to a Toast in Honor of the Judiciary While we honor the institution, let us not be unmindful of the men who have made it what it is. Let us not forget the honored dead who have caused the jurisprudence of the United States, in its international relations, to be respected the world over. In the science of international law, there are no names more honored than those of Marshall, Story, Kent and Wheaton. They are authority wherever, in the world, there is authority in reason and right. In the exciting controversies of the last few years, to unwilling hearers, Mr. Vernon Harcourt, (better known, perhaps, as Historicus, of the London Times,) has borne his testimony that the prize decisions of the American Courts in the last generation have commanded the respect of the world; and -it is no small thing to say that there is no decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in a prize...
