SIDE-VIEW FACE RECOGNITION USING ENHANCED LANDMARKS

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | The recent years have seen an increase in the growth of face recognition for computer aided identification. Majority of the processes and products developed including the traditional Viola Jones algorithm coupled with re-ranking is successfully being applied on all frontal faces. Face detection remains a challenge because of variations in facade, illumination and expression. Problems arise particularly when searching for an image in the database containing side view face images. This...
