When he is faced with a horrible ultimatum, he flees to Hollywood where he hopes he can escape the fate his father has planned for him. Aaron Rubenstein is a wealthy and sophisticated man who loses himself in painting portraits of bound men to help stave off his loneliness and despair. Naive and inexperienced in the ways men can please one another, Sam takes a job at a bathhouse where he first glimpses a beautiful older man. Aaron notices the sweet towel boy watching him with interest every time he patronizes the Temple of Eros bathhouse. A traumatic incident for the innocent towel boy triggers Aaron's protective tendencies and he is compelled to rescue the gentle Sam from the clutches of the Temple's manager. They embark on a journey together that teaches them both things about themselves that they never knew. As their bond deepens and Sam is trained for his first night at the Hampton Road Club, an unknown danger lurks. Will Sam's father find him and destroy both men's chance for true happiness together...
