The court said that it was established by the evidence that the plaintiff was not guilty of contributory negligence, that he slipped on the platform, that it was practical to cover the machine, and that it was the duty of the defendant to do so, and that, if the defendant had performed this duty, the injury would not have occurred, and that these facts justified a recovery. Not one word here that the slipping was the proximate cause of the injury and not the unguarded machinery. The opinion of Judge Haight says: It is quite true that accidents do happen which are so extraordinary that a careful, prudent person could not anticipate they were liable to occur. In such cases the court may be justified in disposing of them as presenting only questions of law; but ordinarily they present questions of fact or mixed questions of fact and law, and in our judgment the case under consideration falls under the latter cases. The plaintiff in Perrotta v. Richmond Brick Co., 123 App. Div. 626, to avoid a stone coming from above dodged and his arm was caught in cogs which should have been guarded. There was no claim that the stone, or the dodging of the stone, was the proximate or primary cause of the accident. In Johnson v. Onondaga Paper Co., 112 App. Div. 667, plaintiff slipped on an oily floor and his leg went into an unguarded belt and pulleys....
