Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The future can t wait for tomorrow. Today s young people have grown up in a rapidly changing world, where political, social, and economic issues have reached the forefront of their collective consciousness. They eschew the option of sitting back and hoping for the best. Instead, they re taking the torch from those who came before them and lighting the way for future generations. In What We re Passionate About: An Anthology of Essays Written by America s Young Leaders and Activists, more than 40 university students express themselves about the passions and causes that drive them. Whether devoting themselves to charitable causes or discussing their most cherished issues, these extraordinary young people prove that change can only come from within. And while the problems of the world may seem overwhelming, there is no need to fear. With young people like these leading the way, others like them can be inspired to also become the change they want to see in the world. While every proactive action may not solve the issues that plague us, every young person who takes a stand will bring us that much closer. Because there truly are no lost causes - only lost opportunities.
