This distance naturally varies with the form of the ground, but is at least 1 kilometre. This principle does not, however, prevent the Germans from constructing minor intermediate lines and posts* on suitable ground between positions. Hitherto each position (see Fig 1) has consisted of at least two continuous lines, but. Generally of threat-front line, support line, and reserve line, the distance between the two first being roughly from 50 to 100 yards. These lines include strong points, such as villages or woods which may happen to be situated in the forward area (see Strong Points on page The present tendency is to construct not more than two lines at an increased interval of...
