Excerpt from Religious Forces and Other Activities in the History of Vineland, N. J Inasmuch as Rev. Dr. D. H. King, our Pastor Emeritus, preached a historical sermon this morning and dwelt more particularly upon the intimate and spiritual history of our church, I feel that it is both appropriate and desirable that I, in what I shall say this evening, broaden the subject somewhat, and refer not only to the history of our own church, but to the various religious and other forces that have exerted an influence for good in our town during the past half-century. While the subject is too great to be fully discussed in the time allotted me, it should be stated with special emphasis that the history of a live, active church is inevitably a part of the history of a community. The church gives inspiration, encouragement and genuine vital force to every worthy enterprise and every good cause.
