Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A Form of Communication All stories are a form of communication that expresses the dramatic code.(Truby, 5) John Truby says that the story is a form of communication and that its purpose is to express what is called the dramatic code. This code of the human drama is man s desire for fulfillment and accomplishing his journey. Man s journey comes at a price since he begins this journey with certain expectations and resourcefulness, but as he continues along his journey, he finds he lacks either a clear goal or sufficient tools to accomplish the goals he wants to achieve. Human beings can accomplish his desires in purely abstract form or one closer to the material world. The former brings to mind the many accomplishments of people who work in the theoretical world, while others pursue more practical goals of creating new inventions or designing new laws and legislature. Regardless of what field of action a person lives out his life, speculative and theoretical or technology and business, his goals are often offset by difficulties and setbacks. The dramatic code is those habits of mind and heart that keep a person on the right track of his goal, while working out the ways in which he can overcome his difficulties. Searching for Accomplishment In his search for the accomplishment of his sought after goal, a man may become disheartened and fearful of failure or setbacks. He searches for others who can show him the way. He needs teachers and instructors. Ultimately, a person must find his own true wisdom to flesh out his own dreams of success. At any and eery point along the way he may encounter...
